

The Ten Key Green Values

#1 Grassroots Democracy: We promote public participation, accountability of the government and our representatives, locally based institutions, and citizen control over decisions, which affect our lives.

#2 Ecological Wisdom: We understand that the earth sustains all life processes and that we are a part of nature, not standing atop of it.

#3 Social Justice and Equal Opportunity: We believe that all people have the right to benefit from the resources of society and the environment.

#4 Nonviolence: We must develop effective alternatives to our current patterns of violence at all levels, from the family and the streets to nations and the world.

#5 Decentralization: We support the development of social, political, and economic institutions which move from control by the few and powerful to systems which emphasize decision making at the local and individual levels.

#6 Community Based Economics: We support sustainable community-based economic systems that provide for all while maintaining ecological balance.

#7 Feminism: We support human values such as equity between the sexes, cooperative relationships, compassion and respect.

#8 Respect for Diversity: We respect and value cultural, ethnic, racial, sexual, religious and spiritual diversity.

#9 Personal Global Responsibility: We support personal decisions made with the aim of enhancing the global ecological balance and social harmony.

#10 Future Focus: Our actions and policies are toward long-term goals: protections of natural resources, sustainability, respect for the dignity and intrinsic worth of all life.
